CU in Africa – and beyond[1]

Call for submissions: CU Humanities grants, spring 2020[2]

The Office of Academic Affairs solicits nominations for spring 2020 President's Fund for the Humanities grant applications.

PRESIDENT'S FUND FOR THE HUMANITIES (MINI-GRANTS)

The President's Fund for the Humanities was established to promote and enhance the humanities on and across campuses and in the wider community, and to preserve a balance in the university's programs of education and research by giving special attention to the humanities.

Funding requests for proposed projects must range from $1,000-$5,000 as only $10,000 in award funding remains this year.
Eligible: Projects must be authored by a full-time faculty member with the rank of professor, associate professor, assistant professor, senior instructor or instructor. Deadline: 5 p.m. Friday, April 3.
Learn more about the President's Fund for the Humanities.[3]

Please direct inquiries to AcademicAffairs@cu.edu[4].

Growing up in a bank desert has major costs [5]

UCCS researchers highlight changed perceptions of refugees over past 100 years[6]

University, business leaders honor faculty for urban research [7]

Stressed about the dentist? Paws for a smile instead [8]

Molenaar outlines community, diversity and transparency as priorities[9]

Winslows to receive College of Business Lifetime Entrepreneurship Award [10]

Chip wins his third Mascot National Championship [11]

Links
[1] https://connections.cu.edu/spotlights/cu-africa-and-beyond[2] https://connections.cu.edu/stories/call-submissions-cu-humanities-grants-spring-2020[3] http://www.cu.edu/office-academic-affairs/presidents-fund-humanities[4] mailto:AcademicAffairs@cu.edu[5] https://connections.cu.edu/stories/growing-bank-desert-has-major-costs[6] https://connections.cu.edu/stories/uccs-researchers-highlight-changed-perceptions-refugees-over-past-100-years[7] https://connections.cu.edu/stories/university-business-leaders-honor-faculty-urban-research[8] https://connections.cu.edu/stories/stressed-about-dentist-paws-smile-instead[9] https://connections.cu.edu/people/molenaar-outlines-community-diversity-and-transparency-priorities[10] https://connections.cu.edu/people/winslows-receive-college-business-lifetime-entrepreneurship-award[11] https://connections.cu.edu/people/chip-wins-his-third-mascot-national-championship