CU Conference on World Affairs returns in person and online April 6-9\[1\]

CU Denver | Anschutz honored to receive Military Friendly Schools Gold Award designation\[2\]

Charlie Sweet, Vice Chancellor of Strategic Initiatives, retires after three decades with CU\[3\]

What the Wordle trend can teach us about language and technology\[4\]

Venture Attractor welcomes its 2022 Cohort 1\[5\]

College of Architecture and Planning exhibit honors Colorado’s first licensed Black architect\[6\]

Transforming practitioners into researchers: ACCORDS’ SCORE Fellowship\[7\]

Jefferson named to new DEI post at CU Denver School of Education and Human Development\[8\]

Ferguson elected to AIMBE College of Fellows\[9\]
Coleman relishes role as commencement marshal.

Colorado is reopening again. But, this time, it feels a little more real.

Study: Exposure to outdoors boosted mental health during peak of pandemic.

Links
[10] https://connections.cu.edu/people/coleman-relishes-role-commencement-marshall